FOREWORD

Just a tip of the hat to you, good iris fans, and a word of appreciation for the fine business enjoyed in 1953. I hope each one of you has a marvelous season in '54!

During the 1953 blooming season, Yakima was favored with the annual meeting of the American Iris Society, Region 13. Sponsoring hostesses of the meeting were the members of the Mary Barr Garden Club (A.I.S. and Federated Garden Clubs affiliate) and these ladies did a wonderful job. The irises were at their best at the time of the meeting, the banquet was a dilly, "and a good time was had by all!" I hope I may see you all once again during this 1954 season. Many, many new varieties have been added to our planting, far too many to enumerate here. Notable among them by special arrangement, however, are all of the introductions for this year (1954) of the Lawson Gardens in California, to be seen no-where-else in the Northwest. These are the treasured things so carefully guarded by the late Lena Lothrop—her selections of lovely Oncobreds from the gardens of Clarence White, some seedlings of her own, and one from George Wedgwood. Although we cannot offer these for sale this season, they may be had from Mrs. Lawson.

My iris trekking for the year was confined to several visits to the gardens of Gordon Plough in Wenatchee, where dozens of new things were on display, as well as some fine seedlings; that of Luella Noyd of Wenatchee, with fine varieties and seedlings in bloom, and the mountain gardens of Alexia Gerberg of Naches, and Merle Daling of Waterville, both in Washington. Each had lovely bloom, although Merle's planting had been damaged by frost. Among his new seedlings were a couple of ruffled knockouts! Lastly, an overnight trip with my wife Jeannie and Merle to visit the gardens of R. M. White, of Summerland, B.C. His irises were beautifully grown and there were several seedlings of interest, of particular note, a very fine plicata. At last report he was attempting to name it—Calico, Piebald, Pinto or something of the sort. Perhaps he has it branded by now! Finding appropriate, unattached names for seedlings is no simple matter. As often happens, while we were away, we missed the visit to our gardens of Mr. and Mrs. Jess Melrose of California, accompanied by Mr. Fred DeForest. Too bad, so sorry!

All of our stock has been moved to the home gardens, 1421 N. 16th Ave., for this year, and we hope to have 10,000 plants in bloom along about May 15th. Come and see the show!

Sincerely,

JACK LINSE

TERMS OF SALE

CASH WITH ORDER, check, draft or money order—no stamps please. All orders postpaid, none accepted under $5.00, prompt refund on any item we cannot supply. Our plants are State inspected, and guaranteed healthy and true to name. Any failing to grow will be replaced free of charge, but you MUST NOTIFY US BEFORE OCTOBER 1st, year of planting. We cannot be responsible for winter losses. Shipping will start about July 10th, as soon as our rhizomes are firm and ready, and will continue as long as we have stock remaining in the field, usually early October. Positively no spring shipments. Kindly do not ask us to hold scarce items until late fall for you, for when we remove the shade of its companions in the clump, yours will sunburn in our hot sun and become worthless.

1954 INTRODUCTIONS

BOLD CONTRAST (Linse 1954) 38" to 40". Midseason to very late. Seedling Raj-3. This iris was greatly admired by late visitors to our gardens last year, and is a decided advance in variegatas. Standards are Inca Gold, with minute rose veining, giving them a faint rosy flush. The broad semi-flaring falls are red—between Raspberry and Mauve Rose, according to Maerz and Paul, with narrow edging of gold. The under-side is gold, as in most of this type, but differs in that it has red veining, which seems to intensify the color of the upper side, which is absolutely smooth. The outstanding feature of this iris is its smoothness, its few marks being well within the heart of the flower. Stalks are good and husky, with usually three short branches and a terminal. The breeding is Extravaganza ex Rajah Brooke. Each $20.00

BETHEL (Linse 1954) 37". Midseason. Seedling LM-2. A rosy tan self with a lustrous, luminous quality hard to describe. The breeding of this iris is unique in that it is a seedling of Lady Mohr out of a tan seedling of Ormohr crossed with Matterhorn (sister to Airy Miss). It should make an excellent out-cross for the Kleinsorge and DeForest browns. In appearance it is strictly tall bearded, with firmly held and nicely ruffled standards with heavy midrib. The falls are ruffled and flaring to near horizontal, also with firm midrib and a bit lighter area at the haft, near golden. Orange beard and ruffled styles. A most handsome iris.

Each $15.00

EXOTIC (Linse 1954) 48". Midseason. Seedling SR-2. A great big shoulder-high iris on a magnificent stalk, with three to four branches and a terminal. Jeannie describes it as "a most brilliant tan rose, suffused with gold," and that sounds about right to me. Seemingly a new color! The standards are golden rose, crinkled and upright. The falls, three inches and over across, are golden tan with lilac blaze, and flare horizontally with upturned ruffled edges. The haft is heavily and strikingly marked! The unique styles have a center of lilac, edged gold, with tips of rose blush, handsomely edged in lace, as are the falls. A massive flower, full seven inches across and of finest substance. Breeding (Prairie Sunset x Painted Desert) ex Sultan's Robe.

Each $15.00

SLICK CHICK

* SLICK CHICK (Linse 1954) 36". Mid-season. Seedling LM-4. This I believe to be the most significant thing ever developed at Easy Breeze, and one that every serious breeder of the Mohr family will want, and should have. After years of work with the Mohr family I have finally developed this slick chick, this SNOW WHITE baby of Lady Mohr, and let me emphasize, It is white—not blue or speckled! Best of all, this is not the end of the line as is the case with most of these hybrids, but rather, only the beginning, for this iris has FERTILE POLLEN—as fertile as that of Capitola! I have two fine lots of seedlings from it which should bloom this season, one from New Snow, the other from Whispers. Again, that's not all, for it has the best branching of any Mohr that I have ever seen, FOUR BRANCHES AND A TERMINAL! No need to start with two strikes on you because of poor branching. The standards are pure white, fully domed with heavy midrib. Falls but slightly flaring, firmly arching downward with greenish midrib plainly visible from beneath. Beard is white, pollen plentiful. Stalks are slender, but fully ample for the medium size blooms, of true Onco appearance. Also sets seeds. It's true significance, of course, is as a breeder, for I firmly believe that this is to be the key that will open the door to countless new and lovely things. Breeding is Lady Mohr ex Snoqualmie. Stocks are fair, but not unlimited, so order early. Modestly priced at Each $20.00

CULTURAL DIRECTIONS

Irises will grow almost anywhere, but respond to good care and soil just as any other plant. When you plant, try to give them an uncrowded position with good sunlight. A slightly elevated position where no water stands is best. To avoid having to move and divide too often they are best planted about two feet apart. Closer planting will achieve better immediate effect but they will soon become crowded and have to be moved. If you have well cured compost, by all means use it, there is nothing finer. Mix it with the soil when planting, or use as a mulch. Steamed bone meal is also very good. Stay away from fertilizers heavy in nitrogen and keep all fertilizers excepting those mentioned away from the rhizomes. Make a good hole, spread the roots well and cover the rhizome with perhaps an inch of soil. Firm well, water and use good garden practice from then on. It is advisable to protect newly planted irises over winter in cold climates. Mulch with anything that will not pack down, such as salt hay, excelsior, fir boughs, etc. One of the easiest ways is to draw up a couple of inches of extra soil around them with the advent of cold weather, like hilling up corn or potatoes. This extra soil can be scratched away when growth starts in the spring. I have found this method very satisfactory on semi-tender things.

STILL POSTPAID!

VISION OF MIRZA

Postmaster General Summerfield has a new parcel post rate boost ready for legislative action. He stands a good chance of getting it. The October 1, 1953, rate increase together with those that preceded it in the past three years have made it increasingly difficult for us to hold in line. However—we are still sending you our huge rhizomes postage paid, and expect to continue to do so all during the 1954 season. We have been obliged to drop a number of our cheapest varieties because of the increased shipping costs, but in doing so we have been able to find space in our catalog for many newer varieties, so in one way it has been a blessing in disguise. Every plant at Easy Breeze was divided and transplanted in 1953 so that we will again be able to bring you the same huge and vigorous blooming rhizomes in 1954. There is a difference in rhizomes, believe me!
